HIGH SCHOOL MUSICAL SUCCESS

The annual High School Musical produced last night under the management of Miss Elizabeth Williams, musical supervisor of the Maysville High School was a most successful entertainment. The minstrel features with a jig by W. T. Berry were especially liked, the jokes and singing of the "Dixie" Quartette winning much applause. The singing by different girls and a few solos were rendered exceptionally well, while the accompaniment by the High School Orchestra and the various selections played by it left nothing to be desired in the way of good music.

The Musical was well liked by all attending and much admiration was expressed at the local talent displayed and the excellent manner in which it was trained.

FIRE AVERTED

What might have proven to have been a serious fire, if not a conflagration was averted yesterday morning by the activities and fore thought of Miss Lee McMillan, of the office of Frank P. O'Donnell, in the First-Standard Bank building. In some manner an awning became ignited and the fire had made considerable headway and was communicating with the casement when discovered by Miss McMillan, who quickly took means to extinguish the fire, which she did in a manner bordering on the heroic.

SEED CORN

Messrs. J. C. Everett & Co. have secured several hundred bushels of White and Yellow Seed Corn which they offer at the very attractive price of $4.50 per bushel including sacks.

YOUNG FORGER

Arrested Last Night by Officer Ryan and Placed in Jail—Was Turned Over to Officer By Ledger Reporter.

A young fellow giving the name of John William Bryant and his home as Williamsburg, Ky., was arrested last night by Officer Ryan and placed in jail on a charge of forgery.

Last night about 8 o'clock Bryant, apparently about 17 years of age, approached the Ledger reporter near the Pastime Theater on West Second street and wanted to know if he could get a check cashed for ten dollars. It developed that Bryant had visited a number of stores in an endeavor to get money on the check but that all the merchants had turned him down, not knowing anything about him. He claimed to know several Maysville people but when advised to get them to identify him in order to get some money on the check he did not seem anxious to do so.

Officer Ryan, in patrolling his beat, happened along before the boy had departed, and he was turned over to the officer for investigation. He was taken to police headquarters for examination and there claimed that he was working for Miss Mary Moore near Ewing. The check was on the First-Standard Bank and had Miss Moore's name signed to it. The boy claimed that the check had been given him in payment for work and had been written by Mr. Frank Collins on the order of Miss Moore. The check was a very crude affair and showed that whoever wrote it was an amateur.

Officer Ryan, as soon as he saw the check, said that it was not written by Mr. Collins, who happened to be an old school-mate of the officer. Bryant was asked to write his name and also that of Miss Moore and as soon as he did so it showed conclusively that the signature on the check and the one written by him at police headquarters were identical. After being further questioned by the police he admitted that he needed money and had written the check himself. He is employed by Miss Moore and is paid by her every month with a check and he thought that he could get money by writing his own check. He was taken to jail and will probably be given an examining trial in Police Court today.

SPRING OPENING

Gay silks of plaid and figured designs in dresses, tailored suits in lines of simplicity and stylish hats of various shades and colors were the pre-dominant features of the spring opening at Merz Bros. this week. Large crowds attended the opening and all through the season is yet young, many Easter frocks were purchased.

The Insurance Adjusters for the Chenoweth Drug Co. which was partly burned last week, settled damages with the firm Thursday and business has been resumed there as usual.

Mr. Fred W. Bassett of Mt. Sterling, formerly with Al. G. Fields Minstrels, was in this city on business yesterday.

SHORTAGE OF FREE SEED

Secretary Dodds of Chamber of Commerce Receives Letter From Congressman—Fields Saying That Supply Is Limited.

On the 12th of this month Secretary Dodds wrote Congressman Fields for a quantity of garden seed to be distributed from the Chamber of Commerce to the War Gardeners.

Yesterday morning he received a reply which states, "I have your favor of the 12th instant, requesting a supply of vegetable and flower seed for distribution through your office, and regret to have to inform you that the outlook for same is not at this time encouraging. Here-to-fore we have received an allotment of 30,000 packages of vegetable seed for each Congressional District, and it has been my custom to frank out through the mail in individual packages two-thirds of my allotment, for which I addressed and deposited my franks in the fall or early winter. We were advised a few weeks ago, which was long after my franks had been addressed, that the allotment for each Congressional District would necessarily have to be reduced 33 1-3 per cent because of the scarcity of seed as well as the increased cost of production. I, therefore, found myself unable to take care of any orders for seed in bulk unless I could secure an additional supply from some other member by exchanging public documents or some other Government property to be distributed through Congressional offices, which I have been unable to do up to this time.

I will place your letter in my special files and if I am fortunate enough to secure an additional supply of seed before the planting season is over, it will, I assure you, be a pleasure to me to favor you with a liberal supply. Yours very truly,

W. J. FIELDS.

CANNED CONVERSATION

"Theosophy" for February prints this suggestion under the caption "Canned Goods":
"The printing press may become a machine for destroying original thought, as well as our taste for fresh food. We live too much on canned goods. Our libraries are stacked full of canned science, canned philosophy, canned religion—everything under the sun is now canned. Lacking preservative, much of the stuff is rotten and should be thrown out, and many cans have nothing in them—never had. The are of intelligent discussion, of polite conversation, of connected reasoning, is being crowded out by trivialities. Yet the heavens and the earth, the seas and all that in them is, are as full of fresh meat as they were before ever a line had been written about anything in them."

For a time the war seemed to have a beneficial effect upon the canned conversation and canned thought, but now even the war talk seems to smack of tin and solder. If you are inclined to disbelieve this, listen today to yourself and other people at their ordinary interchange of words. There is no interchange of ideas. The little red cans of Belgian atrocities have gone out of style—but listen to the talk about knitting, about war investigations, about the affairs of everyday life.

Suppose people everywhere should take to spending five minutes of every day in real thought, in concentration of the whole mind on any subject at all. And suppose they told the results of that real thought to each other instead of repeating the same old boresome phrases. Suppose they were to spend five minutes a day looking with fresh and open mind at any one thing in "the heavens, the earth, the seas and all that in them is"—as if never a line had been written or a word spoken about them before.

Wouldn't all the talk suddenly become fresh and interesting? We've all got brains. Why don't we use them a little? Man is supposed to be distinguished over all beasts as the thinking animal. Must we forego that distinction for the dubious privilege of being parrots?

Spring is at hand. We weary of tinned food. Let's put a little green salad into our talk. Perhaps we will find it strangely purifying.

Flood and Fire

We have erected this vault at a considerable outlay of money for the protection of our own money and securities and have made ample provision for the same protection for the public. It may well be called "the community strong box." It provides a place of perfect security and renders the care and anxiety of watching and guarding valuables unnecessary.

Can you afford to take chances on the safety of your valuables when you can rent absolute security for them at less than one cent a day?

BLOW AIMED AT LENROOT BY WILSON ALSO LANDS ON MEN OF HIS PARTY

Washington, March 21—President Wilson's oblique blow at Representative Lenroot, the Republican candidate for United States Senator from Wisconsin, acted on Republicans today like so much mulchinate of mercury. In his letter to Joseph Davis, Democratic candidate for Senator from Wisconsin the President said:

"The McLemore resolution, the embargo issue and the armed neutrality measure presented the first opportunities to apply the acid test in our country to disclose true loyalty and genuine Americanism. It should always be a source of much satisfaction to you that on these crucial propositions you proved true."

That is the paragraph that warmed things up. Lenroot resolution. Therefore he did not "prove true," according to the President. There are a lot of other Republicans who were members of Congress March 7, 1916, when that vote was taken who are in the same boat, including Hollingsworth, Kearns, Longworth, Matthews, Moon, Russell and Switzer in Ohio; Langley and Powers in Kentucky and Sutcliffe in West Virginia, now a Senator. The President's categories are recognized as campaign material of the first water, and Republicans resent going back two years to dig up the issue.

"It is unnecessary, uncalled for and in exceeding bad taste," said Senator Gallinger, of New Hampshire, Republican leader in the Senate.

But at the same time that Republicans who voted with Lenroot are worried about this letter, there is a handful of Democrats who are feeling much worse.

The Democrats who voted against tabling the McLemore resolution feel that the President has put into the hands of both Democrats and Republican opponents in their districts a very dangerous weapon, and have constructed the letter as a bid to those districts to send men to Congress to substitute for those who did not prove Democrats who exhibited choleric interest in the President's letter today feel that they should not be made a chopping block for Davies, who has never been in Congress and who, however well the President may have known his attitude, is not recorded by public vote anywhere for or against the McLemore resolution.

VALUABLE ADVICE

Maysville Citizens Should Profit By The Following Statement.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used by this Maysville resident.

Their merit was shown—the story told.

Now comes further evidence. The testimony is confirmed.

The remedy was tested—the results lasted.

Could Maysville residents demand stronger proof?
"It's Maysville testimony. It can be investigated."

A Sorries, lock and gunsmith, W. Second and Wall Sts., gave the following statement in January, 1912: "The action of my kidneys was irregular and the kidney secretions contained sediment. I had backaches and when I stooped over, I had trouble in straightening up. Colds settled in my back and kidneys, too. Doan's Kidney Pills stopped the trouble and my back and kidneys became as strong and well as ever."

A LASTING EFFECT
On November 14, 1916, Mr. Sorries said: "I am the same strong believer in Doan's Kidney Pills today, as when I gave my former endorsement. I haven't had any trouble with my kidneys in that time and I believe the cure they gave me will be permanent."

Mr. Sorries is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches — if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Sorries had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60 cents at all stores. Our observation is that there is no better way for a fath man to reduce his flesh than to do his own cooking.

SOUTH MUST PRODUCE ITS OWN FOOD AND RELIEVE TRANSPORTATION

Washington, D. C., March 20—"If the South this year does not produce its own food and feed and has to exchange cotton for the food and feed," says the United States Department of Agriculture, "it will be poorer rather than richer."

The department is conducting a campaign in southern States to convince the farmers of the South that every important consideration makes it necessary for them not to plant more than the usual number of acres to cotton, but to increase the quantity of southern food crops. The department declares that the necessity is so vital that on it may hang the winning of the war in Europe and whether or not the conflict shall be transferred to this side of the Atlantic ocean.

One of the factors that make it absolutely necessary for the South to produce its own food and not to rely upon the North in any degree is the extent to which the railways are being called upon to transport the men and supplies of the army. The total present army of the United States is given by the War Department as practically 1,500,000 men. Of these, 800,000 men are estimated by the Department of Agriculture to be in the southern States. On the basis of transportation figures given by the War Department, it is estimated that to carry the men from southern camps 62,290 cars or 3,660 trains, locomotive and train crews would be required.

In addition to transportation of troops, there is the problem of supplying them with food for themselves and feed for their live stock. It is estimated that for the maintenance of the American army alone, transportation will be required for 1,704,320 tons this year. On the basis of 40,000 pounds per car this would require 85,216 carloads. For the maintenance of animals used by the army, transportation will be required for 128,833 tons per month. With hay and grain averaging 32,000 pounds per car this would require 8,052 cars a month or 96,624 cars a year.

The magnitude of the task of feeding the troops in the southern States is indicated by the number of large camps in this section of the country.

Among the points where there are large camps are: Anniston, Ala.; Montgomery, Ala.; Little Rock, Ark.; Atlanta, Ga.; Augusta, Ga.; Macon, Ga.; Louisville, Ky.; Alexandria, La.; Mattiesburg, Miss.; Charlotte, N. C.; Ft. Sill, Okla.; Columbia, S. C.; Greenville, S. C.; Spartansburg, S. C.; Ft. Worth, Tex.; Houston, Tex.; San Antonio, Tex.; Waco, Tex.; Petersburg, Va.

In addition to these are numerous aviation fields and special training camps at other points in the South. Other items to be figured in the transportation demand are the haulage of export materials to southern seaports in order to relieve the congested northern seaports; and the haulage made necessary by the construction of ships at various southern seaports.

The South must feed itself, says the Department of Agriculture. It points to the recent warning by Mr. McAdoo, Director General of Railways, that transportation may be lacking in 1918 to haul food and feed to States and communities that do not provide for themselves.

Money talks, so it's just as well to make every penny count.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

FOUR GERMAN WAR VESSELS SUNK IN FIGHT OFF DUNKIRK

The engagement occurred off Dunkirk this morning. The British casualties were slight. There were no French casualties. Two British and three French destroyers were engaged with a force of German destroyers which had previously bombed Dunkirk for ten minutes. Two enemy destroyers and two enemy torpedo boats are believed to have been sunk. Survivors have been picked up from two enemy torpedo boats.

"No Allied vessels were sunk. One British destroyer was damaged, but reached harbor. The British casualties were slight. There were no French casualties."

KAISER WATCHING CONFLICT

Sees Flower of Army Held Back By Haig's Forces — Further Heavy Fighting Is Expected.

British Army Headquarters in France, March 22.—The fighting is still continuing, but the first stage of the offensive has passed. The enemy has failed badly in the execution of his programme, as is attested by captured documents showing what he planned to do in the early hours of his offensive.

Vigorous counter attacks yesterday restored some of the positions which the British had abandoned temporarily.

The exact British line cannot be made public at present. The only reason is that it might furnish the enemy with valuable information.

Last night was fairly quiet along the front. This morning the Germans were bombing in the region of Croisilles. There were indications that they intended to continue their attacks today.

Rome, March 22.—Fighting is becoming more active along the whole front, the War Office announces.

Berlin, March 22 (British Admiralty per Wireless Press).—The British first line has been captured by German troops attacking from the southeast of Arras as far as La Fere, the War Office announces.

London, March 22.—The great battle on the western front continued until late last night, the War Office reports. The British are holding the enemy. The statement follows:

"Fighting continued until a late hour last night on the whole front between the River Oise and the River Senne. Our troops continue to hold the enemy in their battle positions.

"During the enemy's attacks yesterday his massed infantry offered remarkable targets to our rifles, machine guns and artillery, of which full advantage was taken by our troops. All the reports testify to the exceedingly heavy losses suffered by the enemy.

"No serious attack has yet developed this morning, but heavy fighting is still to be expected."

Washington, March 22.—American military observers, already having cast their doubts on whether the German drive begun yesterday really heralds the long-expected German offensive, were closely scanning the official dispatches today for evidence to support their view that the German onslaught, terrific as it may be, really is the forerunner of some other movement.

There is a marked tendency among American army officers here not to accept the present movement as the real offensive until it is more fully demonstrated.
